

IN THE UNITED STATES DISTRICT COURT
FOR THE NORTHERN DISTRICT OF IOWA
CEDAR RAPIDS DIVISION

TRAPAYNE CORNELL BATIE,

Plaintiff,

vs.

ANAMOSA STATE PENITENTIARY,
DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS,

Defendants.

No. C06-0062-LRR

ORDER

This matter is before the court on the defendants' motion for summary judgment (Docket No. 19). The defendants filed the instant motion on March 15, 2007. Under Local Rule 56.1(b), the plaintiff's resistance and supporting documents were due on April 9, 2007. To date, the plaintiff has not resisted the defendants' motion for summary judgment.

Local Rule 56.1 provides:

If no timely resistance to a motion for summary judgment is filed, the motion may be granted without prior notice from the court. . . .

L.R. 56.1(c). As previously stated, the plaintiff did not file a resistance to the defendants' motion for summary judgment. Furthermore, the plaintiff did not request an extension of any of the filing deadlines. Because he never submitted a proper resistance, the plaintiff did not expressly admit, deny or qualify each of the facts set forth in the defendants' statement of material facts filed in support of the motion for summary judgment. See L.R. 56.1(a)(2). The plaintiff's failure to file any response to the defendants' statement of material facts constitutes an admission of each of these facts. See L.R. 56.1(b)(4). Given the plaintiff's admission of the facts included in the defendants' statement of material facts and the plaintiff's failure to come forward with any evidence, the court concludes that the defendants are entitled to summary judgment with respect to all of the plaintiff's claims on purely procedural grounds. See L.R. 56.1(c); Fed. R. Civ. P. 56(e).¹

Nevertheless, the court may grant the defendants' motion for summary judgment with respect to any of the plaintiff's claims only if the court determines that the defendants are entitled to judgment as a matter of law on each claim. Interstate Power Co. v. Kansas City Power & Light Co., 992 F.2d 804, 807 (8th Cir. 1993). The court reviewed the law that is applicable to the plaintiff's claims, the facts that the plaintiff asserts in his complaint, and the defendants' statement of material facts which are deemed admitted by the plaintiff. Based on such review, the court finds that the defendants are entitled to judgment as a matter of law with respect to each of the plaintiff's claims under 42 U.S.C. § 1983. The record, even when viewed in the light most favorable to the plaintiff, fails to establish a genuine issue of material fact with regard to: (1) whether the defendants were deliberately indifferent to a serious medical need; (2) whether the requisite physical injury was sustained; (3) whether the Eleventh Amendment presents a jurisdictional limit on the court in the instant action against the defendants; and (4) whether qualified immunity is available to the defendants. Based on the foregoing, the undisputed material facts in the instant case show that the defendants are entitled to judgment as a matter of law.

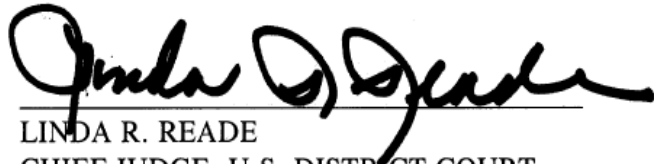

IT IS THEREFORE ORDERED:

1. The defendants' motion for summary judgment (Docket No. 19) is GRANTED.

¹ Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 56(e) provides, ". . . When a motion for summary judgment is made and supported as provided in this rule, an adverse party may not rest upon the mere allegations or denials of the adverse party's pleading, but the adverse party's response, by affidavits or as otherwise provided in this rule, must set forth specific facts showing that there is a genuine issue for trial. If the adverse party does not so respond, summary judgment, if appropriate, shall be entered against the adverse party."

2. The plaintiff's claims against the defendant are DISMISSED with prejudice.
3. The Clerk of Court is directed to enter judgment in favor of the defendants.

DATED this 18th day of April, 2007.
